

Frequency expressions ranking and speaking card games

Without looking below, put the cards that you are given into order from the least frequent at the bottom to the most frequent at the top. Put the two groups of cards (those in bold and those in italics) into two different columns.

Cards to cut up

Always	Three times a day
Almost always	Twice a week
Usually/ Generally	Once every two weeks
Often	Once a month
Sometimes	Once every three months
Rarely/ Seldom	Four times a year
Very rarely	Once every two or three years
Never	Once a decade

Check as a class or with an un-cut-up copy of the worksheet.

Deal cards out between you and do the activity or activity from here that your teacher tells you to:

- Make general statements about people, companies, politicians etc in your country using one of your cards. If the other people agree that your statement is true, you can discard that card.
- Try to make true statements about your partner's routines using the words on your cards in order to be able to discard them.
- Ask "How often...?" questions about your partner, and discard any cards that have words that they use in their answers.
- Answer "How often...?" questions with words on your cards, and see if your partner can guess if you were lying or not. If they falsely accuse you of lying, they have to take that card and add it to their pack.

The person with fewest cards at the end of the game is the winner.
