

It is/ They are + my/ your/ his/ her drawing game Present Simple of be and possessive adjectives practice

Instructions for teachers

Cut up one pack of cards per class or group of three to six students, and take out any words which are too difficult or you don't want to practise (e.g. the adjective cards).

One student makes a sentence out of the cards like "They are my feet" and draws just what they said on the board or some paper (not connected to any other drawings at this stage). Someone else in class then copies that drawing onto a picture of the person who made the sentence (if the sentence says "my"), a picture of the person who copies it (if the sentence says "your"), a picture of a boy (if the sentence says "his") or a picture of a girl (if the sentence says "her").

The game is also possible with students choosing words from the worksheet, but is easier and more fun with cut-up cards. The colours on the cards are optional, and a black and white copy might be more suitable to add more challenge.

Cards to cut up

It's		They're
my	your	his	her red	black	light blue dark blue	orange	purple
pink	brown	green
white	grey	yellow
old	big	small
short	tall	long
happy	sad	thin
fat	ugly	pretty
eye	hair	nose	mouth
leg	arm	finger	body

hand	eyebrow	tooth/ teeth	foot/ feet ear	knee	shoulder	neck
skirt	dress	shorts	ring lipstick	shoe	boxing glove	helmet sunglasses	pyjamas	handbag	slipper
T-shirt	hat	cap	jeans gun	tank	doll	baby
plane	tractor	motorbike	skateboard

-S