

Needs analysis past present and future review

Ask your partner about the topics below and make brief notes in the boxes. Your teacher will take the completed sheets in to help with planning your course. Possible things to ask about:

- What, where, when, why, who with, how, how often and how much
- Experiences, opinions, plans, predictions, arrangements and problems

Name (of the person being interviewed):
Past	Present	Future

Opinions about English and your English

What could the questions for each box be (there are usually several possibilities)?

What future forms could you use in the questions and answers?

Turn over the worksheet so that you can't see what you have written and then try to make true sentences about your partner. They will correct you if you are wrong.
