

Prepositions of position find what's wrong in the classroom game

Ask Yes/ No questions to find out what is wrong about an imaginary classroom that is described on one of the cards below.

Possible questions and answers

"Is something in the bin?"

"No, it isn't connected to the bin"

"Is something on the table?"

"Not on the table."

"Is the teacher in the wrong place?"

"Yes, she is."

"Is the sellotape on the students' clothes?"

"Yes, that's right! Well done!"

The students are under the table
A chair is on the table
The table is under the teacher
The book is on the carpet
A student is under the carpet
The dictionaries are in the bin
A board marker is in a student's mouth
A boy's watch is on his leg
The teacher is behind the window
A pencil is in the teacher's ear
A student has paint on his face.
The cupboard is in front of the board

A ruler is behind the whiteboard
Some scissors are in the DVD player
100 students are in the classroom
The carpet is on the table

Choose one of the sentences above and play the same game with your partner(s). Start by asking them a question, e.g.

“There is something strange about the classroom. Where is the teacher standing?” or “Something isn’t right in here. What is on the table (that shouldn’t be)?” or just “Can you guess what is wrong with the classroom?”

Draw or write other things that could be in the wrong place in a classroom and continue the game.

Race to draw other things being in strange places that your teacher or another student explains.

Do the same with other places.

In the playground

In the gym

Outside the school

In the supermarket

In the library

In your house

In the laboratory

In the kitchen

In the dining room/ cafeteria

In the park

In a theme park

In the amusement arcade

In a theatre

On an ice-skating rink

In a martial arts club

In a cinema (= movie theatre)