

The best way to learn languages- Superlative Adjectives Practice

Choose one of the lines below and give your advice on that topic. Does your partner agree with your recommendations?

Useful language for asking for advice

I want... What do you recommend?

I'd like... What do you think I should do?

I need... What's the best way, do you think?

How can I...?

Useful language for giving advice

You should (probably)...

If I were you, I'd...

I recommend...

Useful language for responding to advice

That's a good idea. I'll try that.

Actually, I already... but...

Hmmm. I'm not sure that would work for me. Thanks anyway.

the most authentic English dialogues the cheapest English lessons ways to learn the most common words the most convenient way to practise speaking the easiest books to understand/ the easiest English reading to understand the most fashionable way to learn English/ the trendiest way to learn English the fastest way to improve your comprehension the most fun way of learning vocabulary the best way of improving your listening the best value place to study English abroad the best place to study abroad the most effective way to learn grammar the most efficient way to learn vocabulary the hardest part of learning English, and how to learn it the most high-tech language learning materials the most important parts of English to study the newest ways of learning languages the most popular language learning podcasts the most relaxing way to learn English self-study which is most similar to speaking the simplest movies to understand the most suitable self-study materials for low-level learners

Ask about anything above which you couldn't understand or couldn't answer, each time discussing your recommendations as a class.

Superlative adjective formation presentation

From memory or from your grammar knowledge, write the superlatives of the adjectives you talked about above, starting with “the...” each time.

authentic English dialogues cheap English lessons ways to learn common words convenient way to practise speaking easy books to understand/ / easy English reading to understand fashionable way to learn English/ trendy way to learn English fast way to improve your comprehension fun way of learning vocabulary good way of improving your listening good value place to study English abroad good place to study abroad effective way to learn grammar efficient way to learn vocabulary hard part of learning English, and how to learn it high-tech language learning materials important parts of English to study new ways of learning languages popular language learning podcasts relaxing way to learn English self-study which is similar to speaking simple movies to understand suitable self-study materials for low-level learners

What are the rules for making comparative and superlative adjectives?

Using those rules, make the comparative and superlative of these adjectives:

new

tall

large

long

thin famous

busy

expensive

dangerous

The best ways of learning languages further speaking practice

Recommend things such as those below, giving a reason why each time.

- Children's movies
- Children's TV
- Comics
- Conversation exchange
- English conversation club (without a teacher)
- English language learning game apps
- English language learning software
- Graded readers (e.g. a Pre-Intermediate level Penguin Reader story book)
- Internet news sites
- Karaoke in English
- Local English-language newspapers
- Local English-language TV, e.g. news
- Online chat
- Reading children's books
- Reading the lyrics of English songs
- Skype lessons with a Filipino teacher
- Using a lower level English-English dictionary, e.g. an Elementary learner's dictionary or Intermediate learner's dictionary
- Voice of America (VoA) Simple English news
- Watching English-language movies or TV with English subtitles
- Watching the same film or TV episode several times
- Writing a diary in English