

There is/ There are with Prepositions- Make Me Say Yes Game

Ask an "Are there any... your...?" or "Is there a... (your...)" question. If the answer is "Yes, there..." you will get a point, but if the answer is "No, there..." you won't.

Continue with the same questions about the places below.

- behind your house
- between your house and your neighbour's house
- between your house and your school
- in a box in your house
- in front of your school
- in the living room
- in your bag
- in your bathroom
- in your bedroom
- in your bedroom closet
- in your classroom
- in your freezer
- in your fridge (= refrigerator)
- in your garage
- in your garden
- in your kitchen
- in your kitchen cupboards
- in your local library
- in your local park
- in your pocket
- in your school's gym
- in your wallet
- near your house
- near your station
- next to your bed
- next to your cooker
- next to your house
- on your balcony
- on your bed
- on your bedroom floor
- on your desk
- under your bathroom sink
- under your bed
- under your desk
- under your kitchen sink

Do the same, but this time continuing to ask about one place above until you get a "No, there..." answer.

Do the same, but this time only getting one point if you get "Yes" answers to both an "Is/are there...?" question and a "Do you like...?" question on the same topic, e.g. "Are there any balls in your garage?" "Yes, there are" "Do you like soccer?" "Yes, I do". No points if one of the answers is "No".
